TURKISH-SYRIAN SITUATION

I. Turkish forces continue to maintain high state of readiness.

II. On the Syrian side, no military buildup at the frontier but the propaganda campaign is mounting.

A. On 16 October Syria formally requested consideration by the UN General Assembly of "military threats" from Turkey. Soviet representatives had strongly urged Syria to take the issue to the UN.

B. Possibly to support the bid for UN action, Damascus radio has described the Syrian-Egyptian joint command as in "continuous session;" and an unconfirmed Cairo radio broadcast on the night of 16 October the Syrian army has been placed in a state of emergency, all leaves have been cancelled, and arms are being distributed to leftist-

25 YEAR RE-REVIEW

1. This not so far confirmed by Damascus radio.
- C. There are still no firm figures on the size of the Egyptian force sent to Syria--best information  is <sup>25X1</sup> about a battalion (under 1,000 men) of infantry plus a few tanks and armored personnel carriers.
  1. Small numbers Egyptian technicians have been moved separately to Syria during past month.
